

RA

10 WEEKS TO CREATE A ROUTINE

i

The 10 weeks to creating a routine booklet has been designed to help you create a routine with your RINVOQ medication. Research has shown that if you can settle into a new routine by about 10 weeks, you're likely to stick with it.¹

This challenge will not only help you track your first 10 weeks, but will also give you the tools for creating long-lasting routines that will set you up for success when you begin working on your personal goals, for example starting a new fitness or healthy eating regimen.

Contents

1 Routine

Get ready to start the '10 weeks to create a routine' challenge

03

2 Goals

Create meaningful goals that have the potential to make a difference in your journey

09

3 Plan

Make the most of your doctors appointments by preparing beforehand so you can paint a picture of your experience

12

The background features a white canvas with large, expressive yellow brushstrokes. One prominent stroke runs diagonally from the top left towards the bottom right, while another, more vertical stroke is on the right side. The word 'Routine' is centered in a bold, dark grey font.

Routine

Routine behaviour

As you set out to reach your goals it can help to start small, like focusing on taking your RINVOQ medication daily, before working towards more ambitious goals. Research tells us that if you want to be successful in making a change and be able to stick with it over time, it helps to start with building a routine.² Think about what your routine with your treatment will look like.

What time will I take my RINVOQ tablet?

Tie taking your tablet to an activity you already do at a set time every day, like when you brush your teeth in the mornings, when you have your lunch, or when you unwind in the evenings.

Where will I be?

(Is this different at the weekend?)

Keep a reminder for your tablets nearby. If you plan on taking your tablets before bed, keep a reminder note on your bedside table. Or, if you plan on having them after brushing your teeth, keep a reminder note near your toothbrush while you are establishing the habit.

i

If you are travelling by plane make sure you keep your RINVOQ tablets safe in your hand luggage with a copy of your prescription. This will help airport security and you won't be at risk should the airline accidentally lose your luggage!

Who will I be around?

Consider nominating an accountability partner, a friend or partner for example, who could help you when you need a reminder and who you can turn to for extra support.

What (if anything) could get in the way of my routine?

Share your answer with your doctor, and they may be able to offer advice, for example what to do when you go on holiday or how to get back on track.

There is no right or wrong when it comes to forming a routine – it all depends on what works best for you. Nobody is perfect and there may be times when life gets in the way – acknowledge this and have an open conversation with your doctor. Your motivation will vary day to day, but what matters is how you choose to move forward.

Are you ready to start your 10 weeks to create a routine challenge?

There's a science when it comes to forming routines, such as taking your medicine every day. Research has shown that if you can settle into a new routine by about 10 weeks, you're likely to stick with it.¹

Over the next 10 weeks this tracker will help you build a routine that lasts. All you need to do is:

- ✓ Enjoy the satisfaction as you tick the numbered circles as you take your medicine each day
- ✓ Track your progress as you reflect and recognise change
- ✓ Take time out each day to focus on you and your wellbeing

Stick with it and at the end of the 10 weeks, you will have turned an action into a routine.

And remember, if you encounter any barriers from daily life you can write this down in your appointment notes 'progress' section (see page 14) to update your doctor and get their advice moving forward.

Are you up for the challenge?

10 weeks to create a routine challenge

“You don’t have to see the whole staircase, just take the first step.”

— Martin Luther King Jr.
Minister, activist and leader

Week 1

Let’s start with where you are at now.

Have you found it difficult to get out of bed this week?

Circle how your joint pain has been after a walk this week.

See section 2 of this booklet for how to set a goal for your 10 week challenge.

Which symptoms have been concerning you most in your daily life?

How much restriction in mobility have you been experiencing?

Week 2

How are you finding your new routine?

Are you experiencing any barriers to taking your RINVOQ medicine daily? If so, add this to your appointment notes to be discussed with your doctor.

Keep ticking off each day – you got this!

Do you always keep your treatment stored in the same place to help you remember to take your RINVOQ medicine?

Do you ever forget to take your tablet? If so, see section 1 of this booklet for tips to help you remember. Always refer to your medicine’s Consumer Medicine Information, or talk to your doctor or pharmacist, about what to do if you miss a dose.

Week 3

Let’s bring invisible symptoms into view.

Which areas have been causing you the most pain?

Ask your doctor for some exercises or stretches to help with joint pain.

How would you rate your level of fatigue?

Try to improve your sleep to reduce your levels of fatigue.

For a copy of the Consumer Medicine Information for RINVOQ, ask your pharmacist, visit <https://medsafe.govt.nz/consumers/cmi/r/rinvoq.pdf>, or call AbbVie Ltd on 0800 900 030.

Week 4

Take some time out for you this week.

Try and find some time to relax.

How have you felt this week?
Share this with your accountability partner.

22

23

24

25

26

27

28

Practice mindfulness by letting your mind wander for a couple of minutes

Listen to a relaxing piece of music

Take this self-care attitude with you in the upcoming weeks!

Week 5

You're nearly at the halfway point – keep that positivity going!

How is your motivation today?

29

30

31

32

33

34

35

What have you been most proud of accomplishing in these past 4 weeks?
Add this to the progress section in your appointment notes.

Take some time to celebrate what you have achieved!
Treat yourself to a new book, some time out with friends or a relaxing bath.

Time to celebrate – you're halfway through your create a routine challenge!

Week 6

Is your joint pain improving?

Circle how your joint pain has been after a walk this week.

36

37

38

39

40

41

42

Having a consistent routine with your RINVOQ medicine is important. Is your routine still working for you? If not, add this to your appointment notes to discuss it with your doctor.

Think back to week 1. Have you noticed changes in your joint pain?

Week 7

Let's focus on your mobility.

Have you been able to go for walks or play any sports you like this week?

43

44

45

46

47

48

49

Have you noticed changes in your ability to do everyday activities, like holding things, reaching overhead or typing?

Think back to week 1. Have you noticed changes in your mobility?

Week 8 Have you noticed any changes in your mood?

Have you noticed any changes in your mood since starting this challenge?

Keep ticking those days off!

Do something that makes you smile today, like phoning a friend.

50

51

52

53

54

55

56

57

58

59

60

61

62

63

Rate your mood today.

Having a consistent trigger to remember to take your treatment is really important. Are your triggers still working for you?

Week 9 Think to the future – are there any other challenges that now feel achievable?

What once seemed challenging but now feels achievable?

You're so close to finishing your first 10 weeks! Have a look at how you can set goals and plan your next goal.

Think back to the symptoms that were concerning you most in week 1 – how have things changed?

Write down the progress you have made in your appointment notes and share this with your doctor.

Week 10 You are so close to completing your first goal!

Visit the Goals section of this booklet for a refresher on how to set goals.

Think about everything you've achieved and that sense of accomplishment – you're unstoppable!

64

65

66

67

68

69

70

You've nearly finished the 10 weeks to create a routine challenge! Think about what other goals you could work towards.

Share your new goal with a loved one and ask for their support.

Congratulations on your 10th week!

Use what you've learnt over these past 10 weeks as you embark on your personal goals. Why not try and create a healthy eating routine that aims for 5 portions of fruit and vegetables?³ Or start incorporating daily stretches every morning? Or replace an unhealthy routine you have, like smoking, with something that can distract you whilst your cravings might be present, such as a 10-minute meditation?

Whatever you set your sights on, take the success of these past 10 weeks with you and keep up the good work!

Continue to take your medicine as prescribed, and if you have any questions about treatment or are planning to start a new exercise or diet routine, talk to your doctor!

The background of the slide features a white surface with two prominent, thick yellow brushstrokes. One stroke starts from the top left corner and extends diagonally towards the center. The other stroke starts from the bottom right corner and extends diagonally towards the center, meeting the first stroke. The word 'Goals' is written in a bold, black, sans-serif font, positioned in the center of the slide. A large, stylized yellow number '2' is written in a thick, brushy font, positioned to the right of the word 'Goals'.

Goals

Research tells us that if you want to be successful in maintaining a change over time, it helps to continue to set goals that serve as a way to know where you are and where you want to stay.⁴

With any goal, no matter how big or small, a good way to get there is to break it down into smaller steps. This applies to managing your rheumatoid arthritis (RA) and treatment too. The first goal you choose to embark on should be meaningful to you and complement your progression with your treatment.

A good plan for success includes both short-term and long-term goals. Try setting a short-term goal for your first goal and sharing it with your doctor. And remember, take time out to savour all you achieve – your accomplishments are meant to be enjoyed!

When you are thinking about your own personal goal related to RA, think about what is relevant and achievable to you. Do you have a hobby you enjoy, or would like to start, like yoga or walking? Or would you like to put more focus into your work? Perhaps you would like to work on ambitious goals that involve long-term lifestyle changes, such as quitting smoking or maintaining a healthy weight. Speak to your doctor about your goal and your health coach or GP can guide you through the process of setting goals.

“What you get by achieving your goals is not as important as what you become by achieving your goals.”

Zig Ziglar
Author

Goal

Every time you start a new goal, use the template below to break it down and create an action plan.

You can print it and keep it nearby as a reminder.

Goal:

What is your goal, and is it short- or long-term?

short-term

☐

long-term

☐

Strategy:

How are you going to achieve it?

Advice from my doctor, nurse or pharmacist:

Action plan:

What steps do you need to complete?

Motivation:

Why does achieving this goal matter to you?

Any barriers:

Is there anything that could stop you from achieving this goal? Have you asked for advice?

Start date:

Due date:

☐

If you find your new plan too easy or challenging, you can always adjust your plan along the way. You may find it helpful to define and share your goals with your healthcare team before you get going. They can give you advice on how suitable your goal is and help you create a plan to achieve them.

“People with goals succeed because they know where they’re going.”

– Earl Nightingale, Philosopher

PRINT

The background of the slide features a large, stylized yellow number '5' on the right side. The number is drawn with thick, expressive brushstrokes, giving it a hand-painted appearance. The rest of the background is white, with some faint, diagonal yellow brushstrokes visible in the top-left and bottom-right corners.

Plan

Making the most of your doctors appointments

You may have a range of things you want to ask your doctor so it's important to use the time during your appointments to talk about what matters to you.

1 Prepare

PREPARE QUESTIONS

Every question you have is a valid one. Ask your doctor about anything you are unsure of or would like more advice on. Remember, they are there to help.

2 Share

SHARE YOUR GOALS

Let your doctor, nurse or pharmacist know what you are hoping to gain from treatment and how you have been progressing with your goals.

3 Give

GIVE PROGRESS UPDATES

Think about how your symptoms have been in between appointments. This will help give your doctor, nurse or pharmacist a better sense of how you are progressing and any symptoms you have been experiencing, as well as how they have made you feel. Remember to also tell your doctor about any side effects you may have noticed while taking your medicine.

i

Your appointment experience is what you make of it – so use the time wisely and don't be afraid to ask your doctor to explain something further or repeat themselves. Think of your doctor as your long-term partner in your RA journey.

Appointment notes

Note down anything you wish to discuss with your doctor here.

Print a copy and take it with you for your next doctor's appointment.

BEFORE MY APPOINTMENT

Date:

Questions:

Things you want to ask your doctor

Progress updates:

Changes you have noticed, test results, goal progress, barriers you have identified, emotions you have been feeling, answers and progress you have made in your 10-week tracker

AFTER MY APPOINTMENT

Appointment notes: What was discussed

Next steps:

Things to think about before my next appointment

Reflecting on my month

Circle how much your life has been negatively impacted by the following symptoms. 1 represents 'Not at all' and 5 'Very much so'.

MOBILITY

Has your ability to move around or go from a sitting to standing position been impacted?

1 2 3 4 5

FATIGUE

Do you feel tired throughout the day?

1 2 3 4 5

PAIN

Circle where you have been experiencing pain and rate this out of 5.

MOOD

Have you been experiencing a low mood or feeling depressed?

1 2 3 4 5

Notes:

Important information about RINVOQ: RINVOQ is a prescription medicine containing upadacitinib hemihydrate and is available as modified release tablets each equivalent to 15mg, 30mg or 45mg of upadacitinib. It is used for the treatment of moderate to severe active rheumatoid arthritis, active psoriatic arthritis, active ankylosing spondylitis, active non-radiographic axial spondyloarthritis, moderately to severely active ulcerative colitis, moderately to severely active Crohn's disease in adults, moderate to severe atopic dermatitis in adults and adolescents 12 years and older, and giant cell arteritis in adults. RINVOQ has risks and benefits. Do not use RINVOQ if you have: an allergy to any medicines containing upadacitinib or any of the other ingredients in RINVOQ listed in the Consumer Medicines Information (CMI). Do not take the medicine after the expiry date. Before you use RINVOQ, tell your doctor if you have (or have had): allergies to any medicines, foods, preservatives or dyes; an infection or a history of infections that keep coming back; tuberculosis, or you have been in close contact with someone who has had tuberculosis; herpes infection (shingles); hepatitis B or C; cancer or at high risk of developing skin cancer; heart problems, high blood pressure or high cholesterol; smoked or are currently a smoker; liver problems; kidney problems; blood clots in the veins of your legs or lungs; unexplained stomach pain, have or have had diverticulitis or ulcers in your stomach or intestines, or are taking non-steroidal anti-inflammatory medicines; recently received or plan to receive a vaccine (patients taking RINVOQ should not receive live vaccines); have diabetes; are pregnant or plan on becoming pregnant; or are breastfeeding or plan to breastfeed. You may need blood tests before you start taking RINVOQ, or while you are taking it. Tell your doctor if you are 65 years of age or older. Tell your doctor as soon as possible if you notice signs of a serious infection such as: fever, sweating or chills, feeling short of breath, warm, red or painful skin sores on your body, warts (skin papillomas), feeling tired, muscle aches, blood in your mucous, diarrhoea/stomach pain, cough, weight loss, burning when you pass urine or passing urine more often than normal. If you repeatedly see your tablet or tablet pieces in your stools, check with your doctor. Tell your doctor immediately or go to your nearest hospital if you take too much RINVOQ (overdose), even without discomfort or signs of poisoning. Tell your doctor and other health care professionals: if you are taking any other medicines, including any that you get without a prescription from your pharmacy, supermarket or health food shop. Some medicines may affect RINVOQ how well it works, or they may be affected by RINVOQ. If you are taking any medicines used to treat diabetes, your doctor may decide how much to take while taking RINVOQ. Avoid food or drink containing grapefruit. Tell all doctors, dentists and pharmacists who are treating you that you are using RINVOQ. Common side effects: Tell your doctor if you feel unwell while taking RINVOQ. The more common side effects of RINVOQ include; throat or nose infection; cough; fever; feeling sick in the stomach; weight gain; cold sores; painful skin rash with blisters and fever; acne; swelling of the hair follicles; flu; anaemia; pain in your belly; fatigue; headache; rash/hives; swelling of the feet & hands. If you have any questions about using RINVOQ, including the risks and benefits, how much to use, how and when to use it, or the storage conditions, ask your healthcare professional and refer to the Consumer Medicine Information (CMI) available from <https://www.medsafe.govt.nz/Consumers/CMI/r/rinvoq.pdf> or freephone 0800 900 030. Ask your doctor if RINVOQ is right for you. Use strictly as directed. If symptoms continue, or you have side effects, see your doctor, pharmacist, or healthcare professional. V14.

PHARMAC Pharmaceutical Schedule: RINVOQ is fully funded under Special Authority Criteria for the treatment of eligible patients with rheumatoid arthritis, atopic dermatitis, Crohn's disease & ulcerative colitis. RINVOQ is not funded for ankylosing spondylitis, non-radiographic axial spondyloarthritis, psoriatic arthritis & giant cell arteritis, for these indications patient co-payment for this medicine and healthcare professional fee apply.

References: 1. Lally P, et al. Eur J Soc Psych. 2010;40:998–1009. 2. Gardner B, Lally P, Wardle J. Br J Gen Pract. 2012;62(605):664–666. 3. Eat for health. Recommended number of serves for adults. Available at: <https://www.eatforhealth.gov.au/food-essentials/how-much-do-we-need-each-day/recommended-number-serves-adults> [Accessed March 2025]. 4. Bovend'Eerd TJ, et al. Clin Rehabilitation. 2009;23(4):352–361.

AbbVie® is a registered trademark of AbbVie Inc. and RINVOQ® is a registered trademark of AbbVie Biotechnology Ltd. AbbVie Ltd, L6, 156-158 Victoria Street, Wellington 6011. Medical information phone: 0800 900 030. www.abbvie.co.nz. Copyright 2025. NZ-RNQR-210041. TAPS BG4730. Date of preparation July 2025.